A group of military spouses were gifted some exclusive favorite things on Oprah's two-hour special Sunday.

“Oprah’s Favorite Things” made a triumphant return to TV Sunday.

The two-hour special, which aired on Oprah’s OWN network, was the first “Favorite Things” show in the two years since “The Oprah Winfrey Show” ended.

While Oprah detailed her “Favorite Things” list in the December issue of O, The Oprah Magazine, which hit stands Nov. 6, she managed to save surprises for some special guests.

As part of the episode, Oprah surprised a group of 30 military spouses with not only all of her favorite things listed in the magazine, but also another 10 that had been kept mum, according to the Huffington Post.

Check out the list of Oprah's favorite things that were given to some lucky military spouses. Many are reportedly sending some of the goodies to other military spouses through the Armed Forces Insurance Military Spouse of the Year Award program
